Dear SeaChordsmen and Friends,

As we gather for our final show of the year, I am filled with pride. This year has been extraordinary. From the high seas of our summer spectacular "A Pirate's Love For Me" to our highest-ever competition score in Portland this fall, we can all feel it. Something special is happening. And I'm grateful to be a part of it.

When I came to the SeaChordsmen in 2023, I needed somewhere to belong. And from the first hello at the front door of our Queen Anne Baptist Church I was welcomed without reservation or equivocation. And now, I have the pleasure to watch new faces receive the same welcome I did nearly every single week. I am humbled and constantly reminded of the real human need being met here.

We have big things to look ahead to. In 2025 we'll be embarking on an adventure to Harmony University in Denver, where we'll have world class opportunities to learn and grow. And though it seems far off, work has already begun on our 2026 summer show which, I have no doubt, will be bigger and better than ever.

None of this would be possible without the love of the community. To each and every one of you who has applauded us, supported us, or shared in the joy of music together - thank you. You remind us that what we do here is in fact magic and it flows into our families, our neighborhoods, and our world.

As we raise our voices in song this holiday season, let us celebrate not just the music, but everything we've built together. Here's to this year and next, and to the beautiful harmony we create both on and off the stage.

In harmony,

Greg Olzerowicz
President, Seattle SeaChordsmen

SONG NOTE

---

“The Work of Christmas” takes its lyrics from a poem by theologian, educator, and civil rights leader Howard Thurman (1899-1981). Thurman was an early leader and mentor in the nonviolence movement that shaped and inspired Martin Luther King, Jr.

*When the song of the angels is stilled,
When the star in the sky is gone,
When the kings and princes are home,
When the shepherds are back with their flock,
The work of Christmas begins:
To find the lost,
To heal the broken,
To feed the hungry,
To release the prisoner,
To rebuild the nations,
To bring peace among brothers,
To make music from the heart*
